

Sometimes an exclamation mark (!) will block certain tracks from playing after reopening Traktor DJ.

The exclamation mark (in the Browser under the [#] column) indicates that the software cannot find the file in its original location.

You can correct this problem in two ways:

- Right-click (PC) or Control-Click (MAC) on the song, select 'Relocate' and then select the folder in which you think the song is in.
- Do a search in your music folder for the missing track. Copy the location from the search window and then paste it into the Relocate path field.
